

WEST SCRANTON

Concert by the Oxford Glee Club in Aid of Their Members—Dog Fight on Main Avenue—Other News Notes.

The Oxford Glee club gave a concert in the First Welsh Baptist church last evening in aid of William John Thomas of Eynon street, one of their members, who suffered a fractured leg while at work in the Sloan mines some six weeks ago. The prevailing strike undoubtedly interfered with the attendance, but there was a fair sized audience there who enjoyed the various numbers.

John T. Lewis presided, and for an opening the Glee club sang "All Through the Night," which will be one of the competitive selections at the national estedford. The rendition was not as good as the club is capable of doing, because many of their best singers were absent last night, nevertheless the effort was thoroughly appreciated.

Fred Evans, a young man with an excellent voice, followed with the rendition of "Day by Day," which was given in such a manner that it drew him a hearty encore. Thomas Elias also sang a solo, "Salvation is Nigh Them," and gave an excellent rendition, and for an encore he recited "The Boatblack."

David Jenkins, who is now the leader of the Glee club, sang a number of times during the evening, and it must truthfully be said that his singing improves with age. His voice is of superb quality, richness and compass, and he sings with freedom and splendid conception. He was accorded several encores.

Miss Via Jones, the contralto, who is also winning new laurels, sang "Heaven Shall Make Perfect Our Imperfect Life," and for an encore rendered "When the Sun is on the Hill." The accompanists of the evening were Miss Norma Williams and Mrs. D. E. Thomas, who are always important factors in West Scranton concert work.

The Glee club then rendered the "Pilgrim's Chorus," which was the competitive piece at the Allentown estedford, with David Jenkins acting as conductor and singing the solo part at the same time. This rendition was good, but lacked the usual strength and force of the full chorus.

John Evans sang a pleasing tenor solo, and was liberally applauded and responded to the demands of the audience for a second number. He gave it willingly, and his singing incited much favorable comment. He was accompanied in the latter song by Hugh Williams on the piano.

David Jenkins sang a Welsh number.

ber in his usual style, and the glee club sang "The Builders" for a closing number. This is also one of the competitive pieces, and they are mastering it in a clever manner.

A good sum was realized for Mr. Thomas as a result of the concert. The ushers were Jenkin Lewis, John Jones, Will Haines and Edwin Abrams.

Wahnetas Closing Dance.

Next Thursday evening the Wahnetas Dancing class will hold their closing social in Mearns' hall, which will be a shirt-waist affair. This class has been the most successful of the season.

OBITUARY.

MISS LAURA E. DONEY, died very suddenly Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock after a few hours sickness from heart failure. Deceased was the youngest daughter of the late Richard and Catherine P. Doney. She was born in Dyberry township, near Honesdale, March 6, 1848. Most of her life was spent with her parents on the home farm, with the exception of the years spent in the seminary at school and until the death of her mother in 1888. In 1887 her father purchased a home in Seelyville and with him she made it her home until his death in 1892. She afterwards traveled extensively for several years through different parts of the West, until 1896. In order to be near her sister, she purchased the home at Waymart in which she died. Miss Doney was a woman possessing a beautiful character, kind, benevolent and charitable. She was a devout member of the M. E. church, having connected herself with it in early life and was a generous supporter of every thing connected with it. The funeral will be held at her late residence, Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Services being conducted by the Rev. Thomas Eckert, pastor of the church. Burialment will be made in the family plot in Glen-Dyberry cemetery, Honesdale, Pa.

Will Give Light Credits.

Decision of the Retail Merchants Association.

A special meeting of the Retail Grocers' association was held last night. It has a membership of over 500 members engaged in the various lines of trade. It was decided to give very light credits during the present crisis for the reason that the wholesalers recently decided that they must be paid in cash for goods delivered to retailers.

The horse and fire insurance features of the association were discussed and a large number of the members subscribed for stock in the state association which is a mutual arrangement for insuring the stock of retail merchants of the state. To this the local merchants have added a plan for insuring the horses of the members of the local association.

This Year's Peculiar Calendar.

The calendar for the year, 1902, has not been repeated since the year 1834, a period of sixty-eight years, inasmuch as Easter Sunday falls on the 30th of March, and rules all other movable feasts and festivals accordingly. This will not happen again until the year 1975, another period of seventy-three years, so that persons born in any of the movable festivals or feasts since 1834 have not had a birthday on such festival or feast until this year, 1902; i. e., a person born on March 28 in any year since 1834 has not had a birthday on Good Friday until this year.

OUR DAILY NEWS BUDGET.

With the departure of the cool weather has come a great rush for summer weights and makes in Underwear. For the most complete assortment and best values, we lead, as usual. Our stock is equal to any three other stocks in town.

Sheer fabrics in silk, silk and wool, pure wool, and the usual varieties in white and wash goods are also unusually active, and buyers are delighted, for they never fail to find just what they are looking for. Good judgment on the part of our trained buyers, and heavy stocks, explain why.

It isn't going to be as easy as we had expected to maintain complete lines in Novelty Hosiery and Summer Neckwear for ladies. Of course, there'll always be a better stock to choose from here than anywhere else in town, but we are already finding it hard to obtain renewal orders in some of our exclusive styles, and think it best to give our friends a passing hint, to prevent possible disappointment.
